CSU Media Internship Program

The CSU's Media Internship Program is now offering exclusive internships for students seeking a career in the media/entertainment industry. Opportunities for students include the following areas: accounting, animation, audio, casting, broadcast journalism, business, cinematography, communications, development, finance, graphic design, human resources, information technology, law, management, marketing, music, post production, film and television production, programming, public relations, radio, reality television, sales, set design, social media, sports, talent acquisition, wardrobe, web.

Internships are located in Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay area. Go to www.csumediainterns.com for application procedures, updates, and deadlines.